Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 7-9 and 16-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tawara et al.

Tawara et al. disclose a method for accounting for a plurality of transactions for a plurality of accounts using a plurality of accounting rules (See for example Figs. 11-14), the accounts having a cost basis associated therewith; receiving a transaction (See for example 0039, 0041, 0058, 0059) having an event type, transaction classification, and asset classification (see for example 0071, 0041, 0058-0059); determining at least one accounting rule to apply to the transaction (See for example 0033, 0042, 0074); deriving accounting information for the transaction using accounting rules (See for example paragraph 0042); and the derived accounting information being posted using debits and credits to a ledger (for example Figs. 10-14) utilizing a numbering system (See for example 0075).

The prior art lack the specific teaching of the limitation of debiting and crediting a plurality of ledger balances using a posting matrix containing 0, 1, and -1.

Tawara et al. teach a similar posting system utilizing numbers (i.e., 1 and 2) to symbolize credits and debits (See for example paragraph 0075, as discussed above).

It would have been an obvious design choice to one of ordinary skill in the accounting art to utilize a posting matrix specifically containing numerals 0, 1, and -1 in order to account for debits/credits positively, negatively, or not at all.

Re claim 9: It is well known in the accounting industry to utilize specific accounting rules based on cost basis.

Re claims 16 and 18: It would have been an obvious design choice to one of ordinary skill in the art to update the accounts as each transaction is received in order to continuously provide the most up-to-date accounting.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 11/22/2005 have been fully considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.
